A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need -- usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:

WELCOME TO THE DIOCESE OF FORT WAYNE-SOUTH BEND, INC.

The Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend, Inc. (the "diocese") is a not-for-profit religious corporation empowered under Canon Law to fulfill the spiritual, educational and charitable mission of the Catholic Church in the Northeastern portion of the State of Indiana. As a volunteer of the diocese, your efforts play a vital role toward the successful fulfillment of the sacred mission of this local Church. This manual applies to all volunteers of the diocese. It is provided to you as a guide to assist you in understanding the importance of your role and the standards of conduct and decorum that apply to your position. These materials are presented with the hope that your time of service will be pleasant, enduring and enriching for you and for the people of God whom we all serve. The diocese reserves the right to change or discontinue any provision of this manual at any time. This manual is not intended to be nor should it be construed as a contract of any type with the diocese or any of its agencies for any purpose, or a promise of continued volunteer service opportunity. Either you or the diocese may terminate your volunteer relationship for any reason at any time.

A WORD FROM BISHOP KEVIN C. RHOADES

The work of our diocese is eminently pastoral. We work to bring the message of Christ and his love to everyone. These policies are meant to make clear to all who serve our people that we are devoted to the mission of Jesus Christ and to the treatment of every single person, especially our beloved young, with dignity and in the spirit of the Gospel of Christ

Diocesan Volunteer Phone Use Policy

This policy concerns the use of phones during work time by volunteers of the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend.

While working, diocesan volunteers are expected to exercise discretion and consideration for others when using phones. Personal calls/text messaging during work time, regardless of the phone used can interfere with productivity, safety, and may be distracting to others. Volunteers are encouraged to make personal calls/text messages during breaks and to ensure that friends and family members are aware of this policy. The diocese is not responsible for the loss of or damage to personal cellular phones brought into the service location. Additional conditions regarding the use of cellular phones are set out in the diocese's social media policy.

Volunteers whose job responsibilities include driving should refrain from using a phone/communication device while driving a diocesan vehicle, (owned or leased), or their own vehicle when used to conduct diocesan business. A "hands-free" method (i.e. Bluetooth) of communication is suggested while driving. Sending or reading text messages, reviewing emails, and watching videos on cellular phones is not allowed while driving. These types of activities should only be done after the vehicle is safely parked.

DRUG-AND-ALCOHOL POLICY

The Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend works to ensure a drug-free, healthful, and safe workplace. Volunteers are required to report to their service in an appropriate mental and physical condition so that they can perform their responsibilities to a satisfactory level.

While conducting volunteer service for the diocese, no volunteer may use, possess, distribute, sell, or be under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs. The legal use of prescribed drugs is permitted only if it does not impair a volunteer's ability to perform the essential functions of the job effectively and in a safe manner that does not endanger other individuals. Such violations may also have legal consequences.

Definitions

"Illegal Drug" means a substance whose use or possession is controlled by federal law, or that is not being used or possessed under the supervision of a licensed physician.

"Under the influence of alcohol" means an alcohol concentration equal to or greater than .04, or actions, appearance, speech or bodily odors that reasonably cause a supervisor to conclude that an employee is impaired because of alcohol use.

"Under the influence of drugs" means a confirmed positive test result for illegal drug use per this policy. It also includes the misuse of legal drugs (both prescription and over-the-counter drugs) when there is not a valid prescription from a physician for the lawful use of a drug.
